

James L. Walker

American Egoist and Advocate of Stirner and Tucker

(1845 - 1904)

Description : James L. Walker (June 1845 - April 2, 1904), sometimes known by the pen name Tak Kak, was an American individualist anarchist of the Egoist school, born in Manchester. (From : Wikipedia)

Tags : american, anarchist, individualist, egoist, manchestor, egoistic anarchist, philosopher, egoist philosopher, writer, editor.

Biography :

Walker was one of the main contributors to Benjamin Tucker's Liberty. He worked out Egoism on his own some years before encountering the Egoist writings of Max Stirner, and was surprised with the similarities. He published the first twelve chapters of Philosophy of Egoism in the May 1890 to September 1891 issues of Egoism.

From : Wikipedia.

Works :

Author of The Philosophy of Egoism (November 30, 1904)

Chronology :

May 31, 1845 : James L. Walker's Birth Day.

April 02, 1904 : James L. Walker's Death Day.

September 16, 2017 : James L. Walker's Added to <http://www.RevoltLib.com>.

April 05, 2018 : James L. Walker's Last Updated on <http://www.RevoltLib.com>.

Links :

• Wikipedia: James L. Walker

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/James_L._Walker

PDF file generated from :

<http://www.RevoltLib.com/>